

Herb Miller, Senior Manager of Supplier Diversity & Business Development

Michels Corporation

Herb has been with Michels Corporation since 2005, hired in as Operations Manager for Midwest Pipe Services Division. Since 2008 Herb has work in Business Development & Federal Procurement and Project Manager on two Wind Farms in Iowa. In Herb's current role as Michels Corporation Supplier Diversity Program Manager, he is responsible for appraising all new and current disadvantaged business suppliers and the ongoing development of Michels Corporation Mentoring Program. In January 2015 Herb Was promoted to Senior Manager of Supplier Diversity & Business Development and Management of Michels Corporation's Marketing Team.

Michels Corporation is the 27th largest contractor in the US per 2019 Engineering News Record and is the largest contractor in the State of Wisconsin. Our 8,000 employees and 14,000 pieces of equipment help us meet the needs of the growing energy, transportation, and infrastructure projects.

Prior to Michels, Herb's diverse background includes west coast general manager for another large utility contractor and various field operations positions that had him traveling all over the world, has been working in construction since 1971. Herb attended University of Kentucky and Cuyahoga Community College studying Civil Engineering.

Herb is also a Board Member with the Green Bay Packers Community Service Mentor – Protégé Program, and the North Central Minority Supplier Development Council Board of Director and Executive Board Member of the Wisconsin Procurement Institute (WPI).

Herb and his wife Denise have twin daughter's that live in Japan and the State of Washington and two grandsons, he loves fishing, gardening, traveling and spending time with family and friends.