

Robert A Oliver, Business Development & Growth Advisor

UW-Stout Manufacturing Outreach Center (MOC)

Robert is a seasoned business advisor with a passion to help people and businesses succeed. He helps companies increase revenues, improve profitability, and create cultures of change while reducing business risk.

He has 34 years of experience working in start-up to Fortune 1000 companies in leadership roles (including owning his own business) and utilizes that knowledge to help others succeed. His philosophy is to educate people, help them apply the knowledge for deeper understanding, and eventually work himself out of a job so he can help more business leaders.

He is an EOS Implementer, Innovation Blackbelt, Six Sigma Blackbelt, and Lean Master. Robert focuses on helping companies focus a with planning and execution system, generate and vet numerous ideas for business growth utilizing an Innovation system, and operational excellence in all aspect of business.